

BORDER VETERANS IN WAR DEATH LIST

Capt. Butcher and Lieuts. Burnett and Groesbeck Are on Nation's Honor Roll.

LETTERS PROVE HEROISM

Lieut. Crane Wounded in 19 Places by Shell Is Back in His Command.

Capt. George Stanley Butcher of a machine gun company attached to the 11th Infantry was killed in action October 27, according to official word received yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Butcher of Upper Montclair, N. J. Butcher enlisted as a private in Company I of the State Guard Cavalry in 1914 and served on the Mexican border. He was advanced to a First Lieutenant, and on October 9 while in France was promoted to a Captain when his machine gun company stormed a German position and held it. Capt. Butcher was cited for the act. He was 23 years old.

Capt. S. T. Schoonmaker of Hackensack, N. J., killed in action on October 28, was attached to the 101st Infantry. He was a Lieutenant in Company L, Fifth New Jersey Infantry, before enlisting for service in the war. Capt. Schoonmaker was 26.

Lieut. George Hurd Burnett of Paterson, N. J., who was in the brokerage business in this city before entering the service, was killed in action at Grand Pré on November 1. His regiment, the 20th of the Eighty-third Division, under Major Gen. Joseph P. Dickman, participated in the attack on Grand Pré, and apparently the Lieutenant met a heroic death when the town was captured. Lieut. Burnett was in his twenty-second year. He enlisted in the Fifth Regiment, N. G. N. J., in 1916, and saw service on the Mexican border. Later he entered the officers' training camp at Fort Myer.

The young Lieutenant was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Burnett of Paterson and a nephew of George B. Hurd and Frank B. Hurd of George B. Hurd & Co., paper manufacturers, 425-427 Broome street, this city. He was also a nephew of Dr. Walter B. Johnson, president of the Paterson chapter of the American Red Cross.

First Lieut. Herbert Groesbeck of the 20th Machine Gun Battalion was killed in action in France on November 1, according to advices received yesterday from Washington by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Groesbeck, Sr., of 22 West Ninth street. He was in his twenty-sixth year and an artist by profession. Before going abroad he did considerable magazine work, contributing cover designs to the Saturday magazine supplement of the Evening Post. Lieut. Groesbeck served four years in Squadron A and was on the Mexican border during the squally days with Mexico. At Plattburgh he was commissioned a First Lieutenant. At Camp Dix he was assigned to the 39th. Lieut. Groesbeck in April last married Amy Bradish Johnson, step-daughter of Col. William G. Bates, formerly of the Fifty-ninth Pioneer.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Robins of Roselle, N. J., received confirmation through United States Senator Frelinghuysen yesterday of the death of their son, Lieut. Harvey Clifford Robins. They had been led to believe he had survived shrapnel wounds as the result of a letter from a friend of Robins saying that he had been wounded on October 20, three days before he was reported dead. Lieut. Robins was a member of the Second Regiment, N. G. N. J., and entered Company G, 113th Infantry, when war was declared.

Second Lieut. Frank P. Pollewski, 18 Nineteenth street, Brooklyn, in a recent letter to his mother, written from a base hospital in England, explained how he was listed among the wounded on August 21. "One night the Hun shot over our heads for four hours," he wrote. "We kept our gas masks on all the time. Some of my men were blinded and a lot of them burned. I also was burned and look like a coon. Some blisters are four to six inches long."

Lieut. Arthur E. Crane of 21 Rockview avenue, North Plainfield, N. J., who was wounded in the Chateau Thierry drive and listed in yesterday's casualties, has since recovered. He is now believed to be on his way with the American forces of occupation. Lieut. Crane was wounded by high explosives, and nineteen pieces of shell were removed from various parts of his body.

Lieut. Sidney Schwartz, son of Max Schwartz of Little Hungary, 257 East Houston street, was killed in action on October 9, according to a despatch received yesterday by his father. The Lieutenant was 25 years old. He belonged to a machine gun company of the Sixteenth Infantry. His parents live in the Hotel Alexandria, 250 West 193d street.

Former Alderman George Garfield Goetz, 29 years old, of Jamaica, L. I., died of pneumonia in France on November 4. He was a member of Company B, 26th Machine Gun Battalion. Goetz was in the real estate business. He was defeated for County Clerk three years ago.

Having Produced $37,000,000 Worth of Nash Products for War Service We Now Turn to a Volume Peace Production

The Nash War Record

Practically the entire resources of the one-hundred acre Nash factory were devoted from the first to the manufacture of Nash products for our Government and the war.

Thirty-seven million dollars' worth of Nash products were built for the war—twelve thousand, five hundred and two Quads were manufactured for military purposes.

Five hundred and sixty-two Nash employees were in the various military services—eight officers and five hundred and fifty-four enlisted men.

Mr. C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors Company, one of the country's best known quantity producers, has given his entire time during the last four months of the war, in charge of engineering and production of aircraft in the reorganized government aircraft department, under the administration of Mr. John D. Ryan, Assistant Secretary of War.

FROM the moment war was declared, The Nash Motors Company placed its products and its great manufacturing resources at the service of the Government.

During the war period $37,000,000 worth of Nash products were delivered for military purposes. This included a total of twelve thousand, five hundred and two Quads.

We believe this represents the largest number of trucks built by any one manufacturer for war service.

By Government request, while the war was on, we have refrained from making any statement regarding our war work. We feel, however, it is only right for the public now to know the full extent of these activities.

Now that hostilities have ceased, the big volume of Nash production may be diverted immediately to peace-time buyers.

Because our Government specified Nash products, and our factory all during the war was building Nash products, there will be no delay in getting into our post-war production—a delay such as would occur were it necessary for us to change over our factory equipment from a war to peace footing.

This means that from now on the powerful Nash Six with perfected valve-in-head motor and Nash trucks with their splendid war-time record for dependable performance, will be available in the nation's transportation service in rapidly increasing numbers.
